

BORDERLANDIA

Our History

This project began as a means to share positive information about the border area between Mexico and the United States through graphics and designs published on social networks. Our idea was to tell the stories and facts that make this region a unique and special place. So in July 2019, we set out on this creative adventure with our own means: history and design.

In 2021, we ventured to expand our cultural program to offer tours and experiences that further enrich our purpose and build understanding of this region we call home.

Our Principles

We believe in citizen-level diplomacy.

We consider education to be the remedy for both racism and ignorance.

Meaningful and educational cross-cultural enrichment is the goal of Borderlandia.

We want all of our guests to have fun!

Borderlandia is a binational organization committed to building public understanding of the borderlands.

Heritage Tourism

Public History

Educational Media

Border Consulting

Why Borderlandia?

We want to make an impact in the world by connecting humanity starting right where we live. Our aim is to counteract the ignorance and sensationalism about the binational region by accelerating public understanding of this dynamic and unique zone.

Support Borderlandia's binational initiative to build understanding in the region.

Become a Patron

Join us as a member of Borderlandia on Patreon and receive exclusive benefits like discounts on tours and merchandise.

Join us for a Tour

Borderlandia's educational work occurs in the places they happened rather than in halls of academia. Please visit our website to see our tour offerings.

Share your Experience

A few kind words mean the world and word of mouth is always so valuable. Write us a testimonial about your experience with Borderlandia and tell friends, family and neighbors about us and our programs!

Subscribe to Borderlandia Magazine

The magazine is in digital format and celebrates the arts, culture, and heritage of the borderlands.

Follow us on Social Media

borderlandia.org
info@borderlandia.org

Why is building understanding in the borderlands an essential cause?

The further away one lives from the border region, the greater the myth of the borderlands is. The binational region is so much more than the narrow picture that is painted in the media and politics.

In cultivating understanding of the region we can counterbalance the stereotypes. Our work broadens perspectives on the potential and uniqueness of this landscape that is unified by natural geography and common cultures.

What do we do?

We provide small-group heritage tours to Mexico and the American Southwest, produce educational media and events, publish the digital Borderlandia Magazine, and offer cross-border travel consultation services.

